Thinlogix Solutions Becomes a Jetro Distributor in North America

Tel-Aviv, Israel, November 18th, 2008 - Jetro Platforms, a leading vendor of server-based application delivery and virtualization software solutions today announced that it has signed a multi-year distribution agreement with Thinlogix, a technology consulting firm based in Irving, Texas that specializes in server based and virtual computing solutions. Through this agreement Jetro plans to strengthen its foothold in North America and expand its sales channels in the region in order to gain additional market share.

"Thinlogix Solutions is proud to become a Jetro distributor in North America, adding Jetro Platforms' family of Server Based and Secure Web browsing products to its lineup," said John Haskins, CEO of Thinlogix. "Jetro's features and INA technology make management, deployment, and disaster recovery of mission critical applications simple for administrators. The COCKPIT2i product is a revolution in web browsing where a user can truly "surf" safely and block all FTP and HTTP traffic while still having full access to the internet."

Mr. Haskins went on to say: "Thinlogix looks forward to many successful implementations of Jetro products as well as increasing and supporting the US and Canadian reseller channel. The current market in the U.S. for server based and virtual computing is wide open. More and more customers are searching for alternatives to the High cost of deploying Citrix Xenapp as well as looking for something to add a little more umph and functionality to terminal server 2008. The vertical markets for server based computing are almost endless. This technology can be deployed in industries from oil and gas, to education, to healthcare," concluded Haskins.

Thinlogix Solutions (<http://www.thinlogixsolutions.com>) offers choices in technology enabling Thinlogix to implement the best and most cost efficient solutions to accomplish its customers' mission. Following this principle allows Thinlogix to be a trusted advisor to its customers and provide them with cutting edge technology solutions tailored to their specific budgets. Thinlogix Solutions prides itself on being a personable consulting firm with whom customers can discuss their smallest as well as their biggest IT fears and concerns. Thinlogix's main goal is to recognize customer concerns and provide an unsurpassed level of expertise. This makes its customers know that they are receiving the best recommendation for their environment within the confines of their IT budget.

"Jetro is constantly expanding its sales outreach by partnering with professional local players across the different regions of the world. We are very happy to add Thinlogix to our list of strategic distributors on the way to increasing our sales volume in the U.S.," said Giora Shaked, CEO of Jetro Platforms. "Our world's first
