FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RDT Jetro to Host Advanced Technical Certification In Tel Aviv for EMEA, South America and APAC Partners

RDT Jetro is launching its International Channel efforts through a Channel Partner Advanced Technical Training Seminar, which will take place from 16-18 March 2010 at RDT HQ in Tel Aviv. 20 Engineers have registered from EMEA, South America and APAC including: Brazil, Greece, Poland, Italy, Spain, Singapore, Thailand, India, Taiwan and Korea. Warren Stein VP Sales commented "As we continue to sign new partners it is fundamental, that they receive advanced training in order to Identify, execute and support local opportunities."

The seminar will certify the engineers in both of RDT Jetro's solutions: COCKPIT4 which is an Enterprise Server Based Computing solution and COCKPIT4i, Jetro's patented Secure Browsing solution, giving security sensitive organizations the ability to block browsing in the internal network and have their employees browse the web from their terminals via an external server.

RDT Jetro's solutions have been deployed across Israel and parts of the world , in vertical markets such as, the Health, Finance, Transportation, Telecom and Government sectors and we plan to increase our presence and replicate our success the world over via an equipped and motivated Value added Partner network.

We plan to continue to train our Value added partners on a continual basis ensuring that our Global strategy can be localized with Certified partners.
